

RESPONSIBILITY

5011

(May 1988)

State forests are administered by the region chief having jurisdiction over the area in which the forest is located. Resident administrative officers, commonly called forest managers, may be assigned to state forests but only with the approval of the Director. In the absence of an assigned forest manager, the state forest normally is administered by the state forest ranger having jurisdiction over the unit in which the forest is located.

All CDF employees automatically are bonded to the extent of $50,000 under a blanket policy. No special bonding of state forest personnel is required.
