Responsibility

Division Chief

It is the responsibility of the Division Chief to provide supplemental training. The supplemental training includes but is not limited to the following:

- Orientation to local regulations and policies.

- Special fire training that equips wards to perform adequately on fires in the particular operating area of the camp. Actual fire line assignments occurring on that week, will offset the need for the supplemental training for that week.

- Special training necessary to perform on projects that may be unique to that camp.

Crew Captains

CDF Fire Crew Captains shall conduct ongoing training programs for wards under their direction who work on project or emergency operations. Part of the training must be oriented to safety and provide for testing the ward's physical ability to perform strenuous work. Training may vary with different agencies and programs. All training will be documented, including a list of crew-members receiving it, and retained in the camp files. This requirement shall be listed in the camp operations guidelines. Additionally, during the fire season, it is the responsibility of the Fire Crew Captain to provide each fire crew with a minimum of four hours per week of supplemental fire training. This training should cover more advanced topics not covered in the 64-hour basic course.
