

MEALS IN EMERGENCIES

6302

(No. 3 July 2004)

Responsibility

Division Chief Camp Superintendent

CDF assumes responsibility for planning meals for wards when it is not practical to do so in facilities operated by CYA. Exhibit 6302, Meals in Emergencies or After Hours, illustrates guidelines to be followed. CDF will reimburse CYA for fireline meals served in CYA operated kitchens at the following rates:

Breakfast	$7.00
Lunch	$7.00
Dinner	$10.00

When a crew is moved into camp on stand-by for coverage, no fire meals will be served. The exceptions will be:

- (1) CYA is not notified at least one hour in advance of meal time.
- (2) The crew arrived after the regular meal is served.
- (3) The crew is assigned to an emergency incident.

However, when a conservation camp is utilized as a staging area, spike camp, or incident base, fire meals are provided. If the number of "Move-up and Cover" crews assigned to a camp exceed the number of crews that are absent on emergency fire assignments from that camp, the camp will then be considered a staging area and fire meals will be provided to all wards.

The CDF Division Chief and CYA Camp Superintendent will meet annually to approve fire meal menus. Any deviation from approved menus will be agreed to by both parties.
