ORGANIZATION
(Revised September 2001)

8310.1

The Department's Aviation program is comprised of two elements:

The first element is aviation operations, which is part of the Department's Fire Protection program starting with the Deputy Director of Fire Protection through the established chain of command to the base level. This element is responsible for all operational issues, guidance, policy and procedures.

The second element is the Aviation Management Unit. This element under the direction of the Assistant Deputy Director for Fire Protection is responsible for the administration, service, support and safety of the department's aviation program.
